

Dear Friends,

You must think I make up some of the stories I share - don't I wish! Maureen came into the kitchen saying, "Good news, I found my glasses". Of course good news can be followed by not so good... She held out her hands to show the seven mangled bits that were her glasses after they had been run over repeatedly in our driveway. Good news, she had on another pair, although a rather dirty, scratched older pair. Her Dad offered to clean them. Sounds like good news, right? Nope. He tried to buff them and turned one lens into what, I imagine, an underwater view must be. He announced he owed her a new pair and they made an appointment with a place that said they could make them the same day. Good news, right? Almost... They could make her sunglasses, but had to order lenses to make her regular glasses! She spent several days looking like a star hiding from the paparazzi! In the end, she wound up with two new pairs of great glasses.

I hope your week holds only good news, or news that eventually turns out to be good news!

Happy stitching (and no, she couldn't stitch with the sunglasses on!)

2018 Snow Day Surprise Kits

Do we ever have a unique project for you! Our 2018 QC Snow Day kit includes fabric for the top and binding of a 60" x 60" quilt. You will notice we didn't mention a pattern being included... The pattern is sent via email the first day in 2018 that Quilters Corner receives 6" of snow or more! If we are lucky enough to dodge the flurries, the pattern is sent February 14th. While inspired by a historic quilt, the piece is worked with modern techniques in striking prints. Select from Sunshine (cheerful yellow, orange, and red prints), Tuxedo (black and white prints) or Historic (rich rose, red, brown, gold, and teal historic style prints) for your $39.95 kit. The incredible price lasts only till the snow falls - after the pattern is released kits will be available for their regular price of $89.95.

If you wish to make your quilt larger, we offer an optional border kit for an additional $55.50. This kit compliments your 60" x 60" quilt kit and will contain fabrics for the pieced border which makes the quilt 84" x 84". Coordinating backing may be ordered, as well. Backing for the 60" x 60" quilt is $39.00. Backing for the 84" x 84" quilt is $69.00. Kits may be ordered on line or purchased in the shop.
